EVERY NOW AND THEN PEOPLE think of how they might have been benefited if they had done differently; of how many steps would have been saved if they had taken the shortest route; of how much they would have profited if they had paid a few cents more and got a good article, instead of taking the cheaper; for example: suppose you pay 20c for a pair of gloves, said to be just as good as others ask 25 cents for; but you are deceived, you soon have to buy another pair, thus expending 40 cents. Your neighbor comes to us, pays us 25 cents, gets a good pair, and actually gets more wear and more comfort out of the investment, and thus saves 15 cents. Who is ahead? Does it pay to buy shoddy? Draw your own conclusion.

EVERY CITY HAS ITS REPRESENTATIVE dry goods store, and Janesville is no exception. Why are we the recognized headquarters? Look at the size of our store, at the size of our stock at the volume of the business we do. How did we acquire such a foothold? By doing business on strictly business principles, by misrepresenting no goods, by being accommodating, by studying the interests of the people and keeping what they want. Acquaint yourself with our way of conducting a dry goods store by trading with us and see how you come out.

SPECIAL--100 LINEN DUSTERS worth $2.00, to be closed out at 50c each; if you do not want them for dusters, the linen in them can be made into children's dresses, and used for many other purposes.

DIPHTHERIA

What Physician Can Cure It? NONE.
The late Dr. T. H. Tanner, F. L. S., member of the Royal College of Physicians, London, says, in his celebrated book "Tanner's Index of Diseases":—"There is no specific known."

No drugs taken internally will neutralize the virulent poison in the blood in time to check its deadly effect.

Sunbeam Liniment
Inhaled in the proportion of a quarter of a bottle to a pint of boiling water, will, if taken in time check development of the most dangerous case, and need not interfere with the physician's treatment.

Protect your little ones now and buy a bottle immediately. If you wait, it may be too late. The treatment should be begun upon the slightest symptom of sore throat, and the remedy should therefore be ready to hand.

DROWNED LIKE RATS

Crowded Excursion Train Goes Through a Swiss Bridge.

PASSENGERS LOCKED UP IN THE CARS.

As a Result Sixty Persons Meet Death, Most of them by Drowning—A Hundred or More of the Remains Are More or Less Hurt.

BERLIN, June 15.—A fearful accident is reported from Switzerland. A railroad bridge across the Moenchsee, a small affluent of the Rhine, at Stein, in the canton of Basel, not far from Germany, gave way Sunday under the weight of an excursion train, crowded with throngs of people.

The long train was crowded with people on the way to attend a musical fête. Sixty persons were killed outright while hundreds were injured. Two engines and the first car plunged into the river and all the passengers in the car were drowned. Two cars remained suspended from the bridge. All the trainmen were killed. Thirteen cars were saved. The musical fête at Muenchenstein was abandoned as soon as the news of the accident arrived, and hundreds of villagers hurried to the scene to assist in rescuing the victims. The bridge was an iron skeleton structure which was considered well built and substantial. The only apparent reason for the collapse of the bridge is that the train left the rails and threw its entire weight on one side of the bridge.

The gorge was about 30 feet deep and the water was deep and swift. The engines and car were entirely submerged, and none of the passengers or trainmen were able to escape. The bodies of these victims remained a long time in the water before being reached, but finally the car, which was badly crushed and splintered, was torn apart and the victims penned within released. Of the remaining cars all were more or less damaged, the forward one being almost suspended over the torrent below, having been thrown off its trucks and lying almost crosswise of the track. All the others were derailed and not a passenger escaped without some injury. At least a hundred were badly hurt and of these several, it is feared, will die. The dead and wounded were taken to Stein. The calamity has stricken the people with horror. Relief trains with surgeons have been sent to the scene of the accident.

OUR BANNER.

The National Emblem Will Contain Forty-Four Stars After July 4.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—Another star will glitter in the national flag July 4. This is not because of any recent admission to statehood, for there has been none. But the law requires that the admission of a new state shall be signaled in the national banner from the independence day following the admission. The new star which will find a place July 4 this year will stand for Wyoming. That vigorous young commonwealth came in after last independence day by just a week or so. Idaho had been more lucky as the president had signed the bill admitting it the evening of July 3, so it had its star all the year. With the one added for Wyoming the stars will number forty-four. It promises to be several years before any more territories are admitted into statehood, so that the emblem is not likely to undergo further change for some time to come. In unofficial flags the admission of Wyoming has been recognized by its extra star for nearly the year past, and the grouping of the stars has been according to the national flag makers. It is left for the army emblem to signal the grouping according to the government's idea. This is done in the order just issued by the war department as follows:

"The field or union of the national flag in use in the army will, on and after July 4, 1891, consist of forty-four stars in six rows, the upper and lower rows to have eight stars, and the second, third, fourth and fifth rows seven stars each in a blue field."

Every flag floating as the sign of authority of the national government will henceforth conform to this order. The flags with less than forty-four stars and with the old grouping will not be at once condemned, for the government does not go to that extravagance. But as the new emblems are called for the new order will be observed and the old flags will gradually disappear.

WHERE IS THE MONEY?

Bardley's Stolen Thousands Do Not Appear in the Inventory of His Property.

PHILADELPHIA, June 15.—The assignee of John Bardley on Saturday filed in the court of common pleas an inventory and appraisement of the real and personal property of the ex-treasurer. The inventory includes seventy-four small houses in various sections of the city, a number of notes, and the famous $945,000 in due bills that Bardley says was given him for that amount of money he deposited in the Keystone bank. The value of Bardley's estate as appraised in the inventory, not including the $945,000 worth of due bills and about $47,000 in promissory notes, is $132,500.97.

One Killed, Two Wounded.

DES MOINES, Ia., June 15.—A gang of six young toughs went out to the camping ground on the outskirts of the city and at midnight got into a row regarding a woman. "Babe" Jones, aged 29, was shot and will not recover. Fred Kemp had his head nearly severed from his body by a knife and Charles Derman was seriously cut across the face.

A Fatal Blow.

CANTON, O., June 15.—During an altercation Saturday night over a broken pane of glass Joseph Wise, saloon keeper, almost instantly killed Charles Henderson (colored) by a blow of the fist.

Big Fire in the Quaker City.

PHILADELPHIA, June 15.—Between 1 and 2 o'clock Sunday morning fire broke out in the main building of the Philadelphia Abattoir Company. The machinery and 1,000 carcasses of beef and 10,000 green hides were consumed. The loss will be about $275,000, covered by insurance divided among fifty companies.

No More Bull-Fighting.

CITY OF MEXICO, June 15.—Bull-fighting has been practically abolished in this city, the authorities refusing to grant the necessary licenses.

SKIN GRAFTED ON HIGGINS.

Trying to Heal a Large Wound on the Madison Brakeman.

Madison doctors have performed an operation of skin grafting upon William Higgins, who was recently injured in an accident at Edgerton. While attempting to make a car coupling, Higgins received injuries about the abdomen and lower portion of the back. He had a wound on his back about six inches long and four wide. The integuments were obtained from an amputated limb of David Scanlan. Higgins' wound was first thoroughly cleansed and scraped to a bleeding surface. Five integuments were laid upon the raw flesh and stitched in each corner. Operations of this nature are seldom performed and not always successful. The case is causing much interest among physicians and, if the integuments fail to root, more taken from members of his own family will be applied.

A ROYAL DEBTOR.

Why Albert Edward Was Compelled to Stick to Wilson—He Owed the Latter the Enormous Sum of $1,000,000.

ENGBURGH, June 15.—The Scottish Leader says that at the time of the financial crisis known as the Argentine or Baring Brothers crisis, several financiers who had loaned large sums of money to the prince of Wales were obliged to ask for the return of the money they had advanced. These sudden demands put the prince of Wales in a serious fix for a time until Mr. Arthur Wilson, at whose house the new world-famous games of baccarat were played, came to the assistance of the heir apparent and lent him the sum of $1,000,000, with which the prince paid back some of the money loaned him by other financiers.

The prince of Wales, who at first was disposed to treat the baccarat matter lightly, has now awakened to the seriousness of his position. The London correspondent of the Leeds Mercury says that he has good reason to state that Hon. Edward Stanhope, secretary of state for war, will apologize to-day in the house of commons on behalf of the prince of Wales for the share the latter took in condoning the conduct of Sir William Gordon Cumming at Tranby Croft in September last.

It is currently reported that Lord Coleridge, the lord chief justice of England, who presided at the recent trial of the suit of Sir William Gordon Cumming against Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wilson and others, will take official notice of the charge made against him by Sir William. The substance of which is that the verdict of the jury would have been entirely different had it not been for the partiality for the defendants which the lord chief justice showed in his summing up and charge to the jury.

SUFFERING WITH RABIES.

Dogs and Cattle in the Vicinity of Dunlap, Ia., Going Mad.

DUNLAP, Ia., June 15.—There is considerable excitement a few miles east of Dunlap over dogs and cattle going mad. Within ten days past thirteen cattle have been shot in one neighborhood, eight of them from the herd of George Runnells. The cattle appear to be "dumpling" and then refuse to eat, becoming excited and wild, frothing at the mouth and standing at any moving object. One man was chased through the brush and trees for over a quarter of a mile before he could escape from one of the mad cattle. Mr. Runnells had eighteen head of cattle in this pasture and whenever there is any sign of the disease apparent in an animal it is shot. About twenty dogs in the vicinity have been killed. The symptoms were identical with those of the cattle. A child of James Fantz was given milk from a cow that was shortly afterward affected. The child shows symptoms of hydrophobia and is in a critical condition.

HIS CAREER ENDED.

Geronimo, the Noted Mexican Stage Robber, Killed.

TUCSON, A. T., June 15.—Deputy Sheriff Gray arrived here Saturday morning with the body of the notorious Mexican stage robber, Geronimo, and Leon, his accomplice. They had been robbing stages in southern Arizona during the last five years, and officers have been after them continually. Friday night Gray and his posse ran them down in the mountains near Pantano. They made a fight and Geronimo fired five and Leon three shots without effect. Geronimo was killed and Leon surrendered. Geronimo robbed the United States mail and stage passengers more than a dozen times and has committed many murders. He was captured several times and escaped. Leon, his accomplice, up to six months ago was a deputy sheriff.

FATAL WRECK.

Unfortunates Mangled in a Couple of Rail-Car Collisions.

LITCHFIELD, Ill., June 15.—A passenger and freight train on the Big Four collided here Saturday morning. Thomas Clegg, a drummer of Mattoon, Ill., was fatally injured. Conductor Dixon and brakeman J. M. Miller of the passenger were also severely injured, and the twenty passengers were more or less hurt.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 14.—Train No. 53, the Chicago and Nashville flyer, was wrecked on the Louisville & Nashville railroad at Sebree, Ky., at 3 o'clock Saturday morning. Engineer Al Clark was killed, Fireman Gunn fatally injured and two postal clerks badly hurt. The passengers were shaken up and several were bruised, but none were seriously injured.

A DOLLAR SHORT.

Result of the Count of the Cash in the United States Treasury.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—The count of the cash in the vaults of the treasury consequent on the recent change in the office of treasurer has so far resulted in the discovery of a discrepancy of one dollar. This is missing from a bag of silver in a vault containing nearly $70,000,000. The bag broke open by its own weight and the contents were scattered among the other bags in the vault. It contained 1,000 silver dollars, all but one of which were found and that one will probably turn up before the examination of the vault is concluded. Otherwise ex-Treasurer Huston will have to make it good.

What can you say of a man was than ew call him a hypocrite and a tyrant! Flattery is no more a virtue to deal in, because there is no man who is worthy of it out what degrades it.

A KENOSHA MURDER

Dying Man Found Near the Baptist Church.

HIS ASSAILANTS UNDER ARREST.

L. Bowers, a Mason, Has a Carousal and is Found Unconscious and Terribly Mutilated Early the Next Morning—He Makes an Ante-Mortem Statement

KENOSHA, June 15.—L. Bowers, a well known mason of this city, is lying at the point of death from injuries received during an affray. Two men, Frank Benz, a tanner, and George Williams, a farmer, have been arrested on suspicion of being his assailants, of whom, it is said, there were several. As day was breaking Williams noticed an officer that he had found Bowers in an unconscious condition in an out-building near the Baptist church. The officers hurried to the place and found Bowers insensible and covered with blood. He was at once taken to Dr. Farr's office, where it was found that he had been mutilated in a shocking manner. His abdomen had been cut open and other serious injuries inflicted. Dr. Farr attended to the wounds, but said that in his opinion the man could not survive. In his ante-mortem statement Bowers accuses Benz of the crime.

1863—Running fight from Winchester, Va.; Federal General Milroy lost all his artillery and part of his army.
1871—Commodore Josiah Tatnall died at Savannah, Ga.; born 1796; in 1857 he assisted the English in an attack on the Chinese forts, giving as an excuse that "blood is thicker than water."
1898—Frederick III, emperor of Germany, died at Potsdam after a reign of 97 days; aged 57.

MORTGAGES ON A GOLD BASIS.

The Philadelphia Press reports that the leading trust companies and capitalists of that city have taken a position within the last few weeks against lending money on mortgages unless it is mutually agreed that the obligation entered into shall be paid at maturity in gold coin, and the interest accruing from time to time shall also be paid in the same kind of currency. It is stated that while this has been the requirement that has confronted most new borrowers, it has been an almost general demand of those persons who have desired that maturing mortgages shall be renewed.

The explanation of this action is the apprehended possibility of a premium on gold to result from legislation by congress making the coinage of silver free. The officers of the trust companies interviewed by The Press profess to believe that a measure providing for the free coinage of silver will be passed by the next congress, and they also claim to be alarmed at the progress of the farmers' alliance movement in the west. One of the trust officers interviewed said: "This is the very natural result of the farmers' alliance movement in the west, and the wild financial motives that it seeks to propagate." Another said: "This movement is due in a large measure to the disturbance in values that is expected by silver legislation." A third remarked: "We consider that the risk that confronts us now is a very great one. No one knows when this agitation will end. The influences back of it are very powerful. It may end within this year, but it may last for several years. It is not anything that has been done as yet to impair the stability of mortgages, but it is the apprehension of what future legislatures can do that makes us fearful."

WANT PRICES ON TIN RAISED.

The desperate effort to raise the price of tin plate and create an argument against protection, is revealed by the following paragraph from the Liverpool Post:

"We regret to learn that at a meeting of tin-plate makers, held at Swansea yesterday, a resolution was arrived at to close the tin-plate works at South Wales in July, and that the consent to this mistaken policy had been received from 367 mills out of a total of about 500. If this resolution is carried into effect the consequences may be more serious than the Welsh tin-plate makers anticipate. That such a decision should be taken in April, more than two months before the commencement of the contemplated period of stoppage, renders the proceeding still more extraordinary. It gives the enemies of Welsh tin plates in America additional time to prepare the ground for American competition, and place a weapon in the hands of the high-tariff party which they will not be slow to use. It is to be hoped that wiser counsels will prevail before further mischief has been done. Regarded even as a brute-fidmen this avowed hostility to our principal customer for tin plates is grossly unwise."

NO CHEERS FOR GENERAL LEE.

This was the strange declaration made by a southern orator at the recent unveiling of the confederate monument:

"The pathos, sentiment and romance of the war between the states is concentrated and crystallized about the cause of the confederacy. In the north to-day no name thrills the heart like Lee, no name electrifies the people like that of Stonewall Jackson, no sabre glintens like that of Stuart."

The words are evidently those of a speaker who has not been farther north than Delaware and who when he was in the little state, fell into a democratic caucus. There is no thrill or enthusiasm or romance in the names of any of these three leaders whatever of pathos there may be in their failure to overturn the Union. It is ill-advised, untruthful and unwarranted nonsense of this kind, uttered when opportunity presents, that keeps the north and south apart. Eloquence and rhetoric cannot make the great wrong the south attempted right or its traitorous attempt at secession justifiable to the union men of the north.

London clubs have expelled Sir Will Gordon-Cumming. He will be the scapegoat of the baccarat scandal. The prince of Wales will be excused and the flunkys of aristocracy will bow as low to him as ever. Outside of England, however, the dealer in the Tranbyroff game will be less honored than the victim of the attempt to hush up a much more unsavory scandal in which the prince of Wales was involved.

Most people perhaps had forgotten Jesse Pomeroy, the boy monster in Massachusetts, whose favorite recreation was killing people. He has recently attracted attention by trying to escape from prison. His case seems to be in the way of the theory that bad qualities are not inherited.

California does nothing by halves. What state undertakes she does with all her might. This is why application is made for five acres upon which to make her display at the world's fair. Her buildings will cost $100,000. How Wisconsin's lunch counter and peanut stand will loom up in comparison!

The assembly at Detroit was a little previous in taking up Dr. Briggs, if the trustees of the seminary have control. It will not savor of worldly wisdom to carry the controversy further.

Barnum's estate footed up the neat sum of $4,379,532. That was one case in which it paid to humbug people, where there have been several failures at it.

SOME WELL KNOWN FACES.

A Famous Criminal Lawyer.

Mr. A. H. Hummel, junior of the now famous firm of Howe & Hummel, of New York city, is pleasantly referred to by his friends as a rising young man. He is a small and slender man, with a large head and very small hands and feet, yet no one thinks of his appearance after listening to him awhile. The firm now ranks among the first in criminal practice in New York, and much of its success is due to the skill of the junior in preparing cases. In his social hours he is among the most agreeable men in New York.

Pronounced Hopeless. Yet Saved.
From a letter written by Mrs. Ada E. Hurd, of Groton, S. D., we quote: "Was taken with a bad cold, which settled on my lungs, cough set in, and finally terminated in consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Savior, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds. I gave it a trial, took in all eight bottles; it has cured me, and thank God I am now a well and hearty woman. Trial bottles free at W. T. Sherer & Co.'s drugstore; regular size 50c and $1.00."

Weekly Excursions to the Dells.
The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad company will sell round trip excursion tickets at a fare and a third on Fridays and Saturdays, from May 28 until September 30. These tickets will hold good to return until Monday following date of sale.

Half Rates to Milwaukee.

HE BLAMES DREW.

Comptroller Lacey's Statement of the Keystone Bank Affair.

AWARE OF ITS POOR CONDITION.

His Delay in Closing the Institution Due to Misleading Reports from Examiner Drew and a Fear That the Financial Situation Would Be Affected.

WANAMAKER'S CONNECTION.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—The report of the comptroller of the currency, Mr. Lacey, to the secretary of the treasury, upon the Keystone bank of Philadelphia, is made public. It is a very lengthy document, making forty pages of type-written matter. It states that his first information was a communication from Bank Examiner Drew dated January 24, in which he stated that the accounts of the bank showed a hitherto concealed debt to its late president, Lucas, of $600,000, which had been concealed by manipulation of the accounts for a series of years by changing the accounts taken by Lucas to the general accounts of depositors and so altering the individual accounts on the ledger as to make the aggregate credits fit the general account. This has been done with the connivance of Marsh, who was cashier during Lucas' life time and who became president at his death.

The report of Examiner Drew showed that property of the Lucas estate valued at $25,000 had been secured through the assistance of the United States district attorney, and that it was hoped more might be added to it. He added that the directors expressed a desire to raise $300,000 more to put into the bank. He also stated that Marsh had promised Lucas on his deathbed to continue the deception in the assurance that profits from investments made by Lucas with the abstracted funds would replace the entire amount.

Comptroller Lacey states that he recognized that the responsibility was a grave one, but that he determined to delay because of promises that the amount would be made good by the directors, and that an immediate closing of the bank would probably cause a renewal of the serious financial troubles and monetary stringency through which the country had but recently passed and produce widespread disaster. Nor could he have lawfully closed the bank, as it did not then appear that its capital was impaired.

On the entire confidence in Bank Examiner Drew, who was one of the oldest examiners, having served under Comptrollers Knox, Cannon, Trenholm and Lacey. He urged the examiner to complete his examination and present a revised statement of the condition of the bank.

On February 18 he received this report, which disclosed an impairment of capital of $125,000 but did not indicate insolvency, as it still left the assets of the bank $575,000. The report stated that the examiner was not fully satisfied with the course of Marsh and that he had for a day or two been forced to entertain suspicions of him. It stated that a committee of the directors would shortly visit the comptroller.

The comptroller on March 2 received a final and formal itemized report of the condition of the bank and then levied an assessment of $250,000 on the association to make good the impairment of the capital, announcing that unless it was met a receiver would be appointed. A committee from the bank had in the meantime assured the comptroller that this would be met within one week.

On March 14 the examiner reported that one of the amounts had been paid in and that several of the directors elected in January had failed to qualify and did not seem inclined to zealously cooperate. He had also been unable to supply the vacancies in the board of directors. He added that the city treasurer had endeavored to aid the bank as far as he properly could by putting in checks daily as far as possible to cover the next day's drafts through other banks.

To this Comptroller Lacey replied on March 17 that unless the payment of the larger amount of the assessment was made in five days he would take preliminary action. On March 19 Marsh visited the comptroller and after a statement from him the comptroller ordered the bank closed. He also consulted the department of justice as to the arrest of Marsh, but was advised against it, as it was not thought a man who voluntarily confessed the loss of a station and made a trip to Washington to give details would attempt to flee.

As to the delay in closing the bank, he had no power to do so until an impairment of capital and failure to make the same good was shown, or he is satisfied of the insolvency of the bank. As soon as this point was reached the bank was closed. He also refers again to the disastrous effect that an earlier action would have had on the general finances of the country in the unsettled condition following the financial troubles last winter. The delay in appointing a receiver was only such as was necessary and usual in selecting a proper man for the position.

The comptroller states very explicitly that Mr. Wanmaker, although holding 2,500 shares of the bank which he had received from Lucas as pledged certificates, never directly or indirectly suggested delay in closing the bank or appointment of a receiver, except in one telegram on April 2, in which he said that Marsh had indicated good progress in securing subscriptions, and that one day's delay in the appointment of a receiver would be advisable.

Mr. Lacey says he should not be blamed for allowing Marsh to remain in office so long after his confession. He supposed that Drew and United States Attorney Read would do whatever was necessary in the way of prosecuting Marsh if circumstances warranted it. Mr. Lacey further says that Mr. Wanmaker never suggested delay in the appointment of a receiver except to send him a telegram April 29 saying that no harm would be done by delaying the appointment twenty-four hours longer.

He closes by saying that Bank Examiner Drew's several reports did not, in his opinion, reflect the true condition of the bank, and that he has been expended until a fair and impartial investigation of his course can be made.

THE PEOPLE'S PARTY.

Members of the Executive Committee Organize a Plan of Campaign.

St. Louis, June 15.—The executive committee of the people's party was in session at the Laclede hotel Saturday. The committee consists of seven members, but Ignatius Donnelly, of Minnesota, and Davis, of Texas, wrote that they would not be able to be present. The members were: H. E. Taubeneck, of Illinois; George F. Washburn, of Massachusetts; William Weaver, of Iowa; A. O. Wilkins, of Kansas, and M. C. Rankin, of Indiana. The committee was in executive session all day and adjourned subject to the call of the chair. It was agreed to make the special features of the campaign the support of the currency scheme in modified form, the government to loan money on real estate and non-perishable farm products. The government ownership and control of railroads are to be advocated and the wage earners are to be supported in their fight against the encroachment of capital. A constitution was drafted for the organization of county clubs all over the country; a resolution against fusion or consolidation with any other party was passed, and another authorizing committees in states without an organization to appoint associational leaders. A bureau of information is to be organized by the secretary and an address to the people of the United States is to be issued. It was decided not to call a national convention until after the alliances meet at Cincinnati next February. Special campaigns are to be inaugurated in Ohio, Mississippi, Kentucky and Iowa.

Escaped from Joliet.

JOLIET, Ill., June 15.—John Kaiser, a convict from Jo Daviess county, under a three years' sentence for burglary, made his escape from the Joliet penitentiary Friday night between 11 and 12 o'clock by scaling the wall near the west gate by means of a long piece of hooded gas pipe. He was employed as night fireman in the boiler house and took advantage of the guard being relieved for midnight supper.

Glass Works Burned.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., June 15.—Wolf, Howard & Co.'s window-glass works on the south side were burned to the ground Sunday. Loss, $30,000; insurance, $15,000. During the progress of the fire, Adolph Wilgus, who had been on an adjoining roof to save his house, was overcome by the heat and fell to the ground, breaking his neck. Several spectators and firemen were also prostrated by the great heat.

Heavy Failure in London.

LONDON, June 15.—Tenerheerd, May & Co., wine merchants, have failed with liabilities amounting to £250,000. The concern is the outgrowth of an old Oporto house.

DON'T MISS ONE DAY

The First of the Racing Will be Red Hot.

STRONG FIELDS FOR TOMORROW.

The 2:30 Trotting, the 2:24 Pacing and the
2:30 Class Will be on the Slate
When the Bell Rings at Two O'Clock.

At 1 o'clock to-morrow afternoon the bell rings for the racing park, and a gala week will be ushered in. And if the rain holds off it will be a lively time all around. The entries are up to expectations, the track is in splendid shape and now all that is necessary is a big turn out every day.

Big turn out, do we say? Why, they will come from every where and bring all their relations with them. And why shouldn't they when such steeple as Two Stripes, Kitten Clyde, News Boy, Temple Bar, Kate Agnew, Little Albert, Good Rye, Maud, Victoria, McGregor, Kitty C., Bismark, Monroe, Tink, Twine Binder, Hattie K., Brighton Boy, Jennie K., White Foot, Jim Wilkes, and many other celebrities are here.

Will be Plenty of Fighting. There are no Jay-Eye-Sees or Gold-smi h Maids, but the majority of the animals have records above the average. They are all evenly matched, for close, and consequently interesting races. The Hickory Grove farm, of Racine, is represented by a stable consisting of Victoria McGregor, s. f., by Robert McGregor, entered in the 2:50 trot; Hattie K. b. m., 2:30 trot; Cora Wilkes, b. m., 2:23 trot; Jennie K. b. m., 4-year-old trot. Janesville has a large representation in the races. H. D. McKinney has made the following entries: Billy Phallmont, by Phallmont 2:50 trot; Phallmont, b. m., 2:30 trot; Theresa Phallmont, b. m., 4-year-old trot; Kitty Clyde, b. m., 2:34 trot; Opulence, b. s., 2:35 race.

Many Janesville Horses. The other Janesville entries are: Nestwood, b. g., L. F. Holloway, 2:50 trot; Tinker, b. g., O. D. Rowe, 2:50 trot; Luna, b. f., George McKee, 4-year-old trot; Alessandro, g. h., H. S. Woodruff, 2:35 pace; Rochester Queen, b. m., A. W. Parker, 2:40 trot; Massacott, ch. s., F. L. Smith, 2:36 trot. Among other Wisconsin horses are booked to win or lose are the following: J. P., bk. g., A. Brand, Oshkosh, 2:50 trot; Minnie Whitestone, bk. m., John Peterson, Black River Falls, 2:33 trot; Kate Phallmont, b. m., J. C. Chadwick, Junda, 4-year-old trot; Risk, T. Chandler, Monroe, 2:34 trot; Harry C., br. g., A. Brand, Oshkosh, 2:35 pace; Albert S., g. g., John Peterson, Black River Falls, 2:40 trot.

A Valuable Horse Injured. Sabin's Counsellor, the horse which has been a favorite in the four-year-old class met with a serious accident at Rockford. The driver got him safely in the car to ship to Janesville when his foot became fastened to the clamp near the door of the car, and in his struggles to escape cut an ugly gash in his fetlock. Dr. Pannenberg was called and sewed up the wound, but it will lay the horse up for this season.

Brownie, the horse which escaped from the Rockford driving park Monday night and was badly injured, will probably die. He was entered here in the 2:35 class, pacing.

Two Fast Races. The 2:50 class will be started sharp at 2 o'clock. This cannot fail to be a close and interesting race, as all the entries are good ones. Then comes the 2:24 pacing contest, and this will be exciting, too.

All Janesville will make pilgrimages to the land where "Red," "Blue," "Star" and "Green" is heard, and where short horses sometimes beat the favorites, and where excitement is so thick you can cut it with a cheese knife.

Horses That Are Entered. The entries for to-morrow are:

First race—2:50 class, trotting. Purse $500. 1. Bismark, b. s., by Victor Von Bismark, Samuel Hanson, New Madison, Wis. 2. Kitty C., b. m., by General Grant, D. Leary, Chicago, Ill. 3. W. R. E. b. s., by George Sprague, C. M. C. Weeden, Farmer City, Ill. 4. Victoria, b. m., by Robert McKee, Hickory Grove Farm, Racine, Wis. 5. Tinker, b. g., by Nestor, O. D. Rowe, Janesville, Wis. 6. All Freeport, Elgin and Rockford are in town. You can bet J. E. Gleason will be in the judges' stand. "Greatest me you ever saw," says Secretary McKinney as he grows epigrammatic. Thomas Phillips, of Milwaukee, has charge of the score cards. The "knowing ones," name Maud and President Wilkes, as winners. Secretary H. D. McKinney has been chosen as the starter, and he has started lots of them. If you want to be in the swim take a lad; to the races, for the grand stand will be full of the fair ones. The Freeport races, which takes place June 22, 23, 24 and 26, will be the best ever seen in that town, which has become noted for big meets.

NO DEATH IN NINE DAYS.

The Health of the City Reported as Unusually Good.

There has not been a death in the city of Janesville during the last nine days, and no interments from the city or country in either of the cemeteries during that time.

What better contradiction of the false reports put in circulation that people were dying in the city by scores from diphtheria and scarlet fever?

There has not been a case of diphtheria reported since Friday, June 5, and there not one case in the city, and that one is nearly or quite recovered, and there has not been a case of scarlet fever in the city for months. What city of twelve thousand people can show a lower death rate? The breaking out of diphtheria in half a dozen families since May 20, and the unprecedented fatality of the Bergman and Richter families, created much alarm in the city, people being fearful that the disease would spread and become epidemic. Strict measures on the part of the city authorities prevented the spread, and the scourge that almost obliterated the two families, was checked, and the authorities now claim that there is no further danger from this source.

DEATH GAVE NO WARNING.

Details of the Demise of Sumner Herrick in Los Angeles.

Additional facts concerning the death of Sumner Herrick came in a letter from Los Angeles. Says the writer:

"Mr. Herrick died very suddenly of heart disease Monday evening, May 25. He took his evening meal as usual with his family, and afterward started up town with a friend to attend a meeting of the painters, and, when a short distance from home, he complained of a deathly suffocating feeling, and his friend put him upon a street car to go to the doctor's office, and when he reached there, they were obliged to carry him to the elevator. He walked, however, from the elevator to the doctor's office by the aid of two men. The doctor immediately administered restoratives, but they did not have time to take effect, and he remarked to the doctor that 'if he were going to do anything for him, he must do it quickly, as he knew he was dying.' A moment later he breathed his last."

"He had been troubled somewhat with a similar sensation for two weeks previous, but had thought nothing serious of it."

"The news nearly prostrated his much devoted wife. He also leaves two children—Harry aged twelve years and Florence aged seven, and one brother who had just recently recovered from a long illness. Mrs. Herrick and the two children are not strong, and the shock is almost more than they can bear."

NO NEED OF DYING.

So Says a Janesville Doctor as to Diphtheria.

HE CLAIMS TO CURE EVERY CASE.

R. T. Pember Referred to as a Witness of
The "Black Tongue" Epidemic in New York When Doctors Refused to Enter the Homes.

EDITOR GAZETTE:—This article is called out by one the writer saw in The Gazette a few days since, wherein Governor Peck made an earnest request to the State Medical Association in session at Madison to give due attention to the subject of diphtheria, acute as far as possible, to a better comprehension of its cause, prevention and successful treatment. Therefore, the writer feels in duty bound to relate some of his successful experience in the treatment of this disease which occurred in the spring of 1844, in the town of Harmony in the county of Chautauqua and state of New York.

Dying from Black Tongue.

The disease at first made its appearance in Panama Village, situated in the rich valley of the Brokenstraw creek, which was very thickly settled; so much so that the disease then called by the people black tongue, and by the people black diphtheria, was in every house for six and one-half miles. When the writer was called, this field of the epidemic was in charge of three experienced physicians: Dr. Orms, of Panama Village, who was president of the Chautauqua County Medical Association, Dr. Andrews, who lived far down the valley, and Dr. Wells, who lived in Sugar Grove.

Killed sure As Rifle Balls.

When the writer was called quite a number had died. A great number were prostrated with the disease, and no one had recovered. These three experienced physicians held a consultation and decided that the disease was contagious and fatal in its character. It was stated that Dr. Wells, the oldest physician in the consultation remarked that a rifle ball sent through one's brain was not more fatal than an attack of this disease.

Pushed Medicine Through a Window.

After the consultation, these three physicians refused to enter the houses of the sick, but would look in at the windows, make their prescriptions and advise, and give it to one of the household out side. At this crisis, a man by the name of Chauncey Mather informed a Mr. Wells, who had had two more stricken with it, that he could bring a physician who would not fear to enter the house and administer to the sick for he had spent several weeks with him as a nurse during his time of treatment of the spotted fever that occurred the year previous in the village and vicinity of North East Pennsylvania.

Reign of Death Ended.

The case was responded to, and Mr. Mather was installed as an assistant to see that in very urgent cases the treatment was fully carried out. Preventives were given to the exposed and among the many found prostrate and those that came down afterwards, all recovered without a single exception and in three weeks' time the epidemic was entirely ended.

How Cases Were Treated.

The following treatment was used: Boil thoroughly one-half ounce of marsh-mallow root and reduce it to one fluid ounce, with a soft swab in the throat for twenty minutes at a time once an hour until the mucus is removed and canker relieved. I used Beech's Diphtheria powders in from three to five grain doses and repeated the dose in two and a half to three hours, to reduce the congestive force of the heart and abate the fever. Podophyllin was given in half to one and a half grain doses according to age, to overcome the liver and glandular obstruction and repeated if the bowels did not move in fourteen hours. I made free use of a tea of pennyroyal, spearmint, or mountain mint, with a constant drink, and used once or twice per day an active liniment on the back of the neck. On the second day, after a fair movement of the bowels, begin the use of salicin, from three to six grain doses, and repeat the same every two or three hours until convalescent.

Diet should not be heavier than milk or thin cornstarch gruel.

R. T. Pember a Witness.

There are two men well known for truth and veracity, now living at Johnstown, in Rock county, who resided in this sick field at the time this epidemic occurred, who I can refer to for the truthfulness of the above story. They are R. T. Pember and John Scofield. ALEX. H. DAVIS, M. D.

CROPS SUFFER FOR RAIN.

Observer Heimstreet's Bulletin on Conditions of Wheat and Corn.

Observer Heimstreet's bulletin shows that the rainfall during the past week was purely local, and, although covering the greater portion of the state, yet the amount was woefully deficient to benefit crops in the sections where the drought is most severe, covering the east central and eastern counties. Considering the state at large, the rainfall averaged about one-sixth of an inch, and the heaviest weekly falls reported were all less than four-tenths of an inch. Light sprinkles of rain, barely measurable, predominated in the majority of the counties, but many localities report no rain at all, and in several sections of the eastern counties in the area embraced from Adams county northeastward to Door and eastward to Sheboygan counties, there has been no appreciable rainfall since the latter part of April. The crops in this area are in very poor condition, much of the spring grain having failed to germinate, and the hay crop is practically ruined, necessitating the sale of cattle.

The condition of crops in the southern counties is by far the most favorable, promising good results and improving rapidly since the heavy rains of last week.

The damage by the wind and hail storm of last week was quite severe, and considerable replanting is necessary in La Fayette and Green counties. In the western counties generally fair conditions are reported considering the untoward season. Better grain conditions obtain in the northwest

FLAMES ON THE ROCK

This Will be a Feature of Janesville's "Fourth."

NIGHT-FIRE-WORKS UP THE RIVER.

Balloon Ascension Arranged, and Steps Taken to Make the Day Lively With Games, Races and Athletic Contests—Another Meeting.

Janesville will have a mammoth balloon ascension as one of the leading attractions on the Fourth of July. The aeronaut when three thousand feet from the ground will jump from the air ship, dropping nearly half the distance, and then descend, and by means of a rope he returns to the balloon.

The general committee of arrangements for the Fourth of July display held a meeting this morning at 9 o'clock in the Business Men's rooms. Owing to the absence of J. F. Sweeney and J. B. McLean but little was planned.

Will Have a Balloon.

Chairman Marzluft was directed to engage Prof. Gregg and his balloon, and also the Bowser City and Center bands. Other business was deferred until tomorrow morning at 8:30 o'clock, the committee adjourning to that time in hopes that all members would be present. Matters pertaining to the celebration were generally discussed, however. It appeared to be the general sentiment of those present that there should be a general parade and exercises in the park in the morning, and all the amusements and balloon ascension in the afternoon. The balloon will probably be started from the Corn Exchange square.

Want Fire Works On the River.

The committee was unanimous in favor of a good display of fireworks in the evening, and all appeared to think the best place to locate the display was on the river above the railroad bridge, a display at that point giving the people of both sides of the river ample opportunity to witness it without much inconvenience, and there being plenty of room along the river on either bank to mass a great crowd of people, the island furnishing plenty of room for carriages.

At the committee meeting to-morrow morning, sub-committees will be appointed on music; on advertising; on amusements, including racing, on fireworks, and exercises in the park.

Streets Will be Lively.

It is proposed to make the streets of the city lively on the Fourth with amusements, and considerable of the money raised will be appropriated for this purpose, and a wide-awake, fun-making committee will be appointed to arrange and superintend the same.

A grand parade of military and civic societies will be held in the morning, concluding with the exercises in the park. In the afternoon the fun will be renewed and kept up until everybody is tired out in the evening.

MANY TOBACCO FIELDS SET.

Many Tobacco Fields Set.

The last week was a busy week with tobacco growers the Wisconsin tobacco region, and thousands of acres of plants were set. In Rock county nearly every planter who had his ground ready was busy planting, and many have completed their setting for the season. Much of the transplanting has been done with the machine transplanter. In most cases the plants are strong and healthy, and so far the indications are favorable for a strong growth.

It is thought now the acreage of the present year will exceed that of any previous year in Rock county. Many farmers who have never before engaged in tobacco growing, will devote portions of their land to this crop, either putting it in themselves or by renting the land on shares.

Considerable of the tobacco purchased by eastern buyers during the winter and stored and cased in this city, is being shipped east.

Sales of seed leaf reported by J. S. Gans' Son, tobacco broker, New York City, for week ending June 15, 1891, are:

250 cases, crop of 1890, Pennsylvania Havana, at 20 cents.

600 cases, crop of 1890, New England Havana, at 20 to 25 cents.

150 cases, crop of 1889, State Havana, at 14 to 20 cents.

185 cases, crop of 1889, Pennsylvania, at 12 to 15 cents.

400 cases, of 1889, Pennsylvania Seed, at 12 to 15 cents.

150 cases, crop of 1889, Wisconsin Havana, at 6 to 10 cents.

140 cases, crop of 1889, Sundries, at 7 to 25 cents.

Total cases, 1,585.

Boat Ride On Tuesday Evening.

Christ Church Guild will give an excursion up the river on Tuesday evening, June 16, round-trip tickets 25 cents. The boat will leave her dock at 6:15. Arriving at Burr Springs, supper will be waiting for those desiring a substantial repast, the moderate fare of 25 cents being charged therefor. As soon as all are served, the boat will steam up the river as far as navigable, returning by moonlight.

Church Fund Subscription Due.

The second installment of subscription to the First Presbyterian church building will be due the 1st of July. Please remember and pay the same to J. B. Hume, or at First National bank on or before that date. JAMES B. HUME, treasurer.
